

World Humanitarian Day 2015: Limited Aid Access/Security Due to Conflict

World Humanitarian Day (August 19) recognizes the dedication and sacrifices of humanitarian and aid workers – national and international personnel providing assistance in humanitarian contexts.

- Area of limited access*
- Country of concern

*Generalized areas of limited humanitarian access are based on access and conflict maps and reporting on countries and regions experiencing humanitarian emergencies during 2014 – 2015.

Names and boundary representation are not necessarily authoritative

Sources: ACAPS, Aid Workers Security Database, UN OCHA, USAID

August 18, 2015 - USI277 STATE (P45)

REACHING THE UNREACHED

Nepal Earthquake: Six Months Review

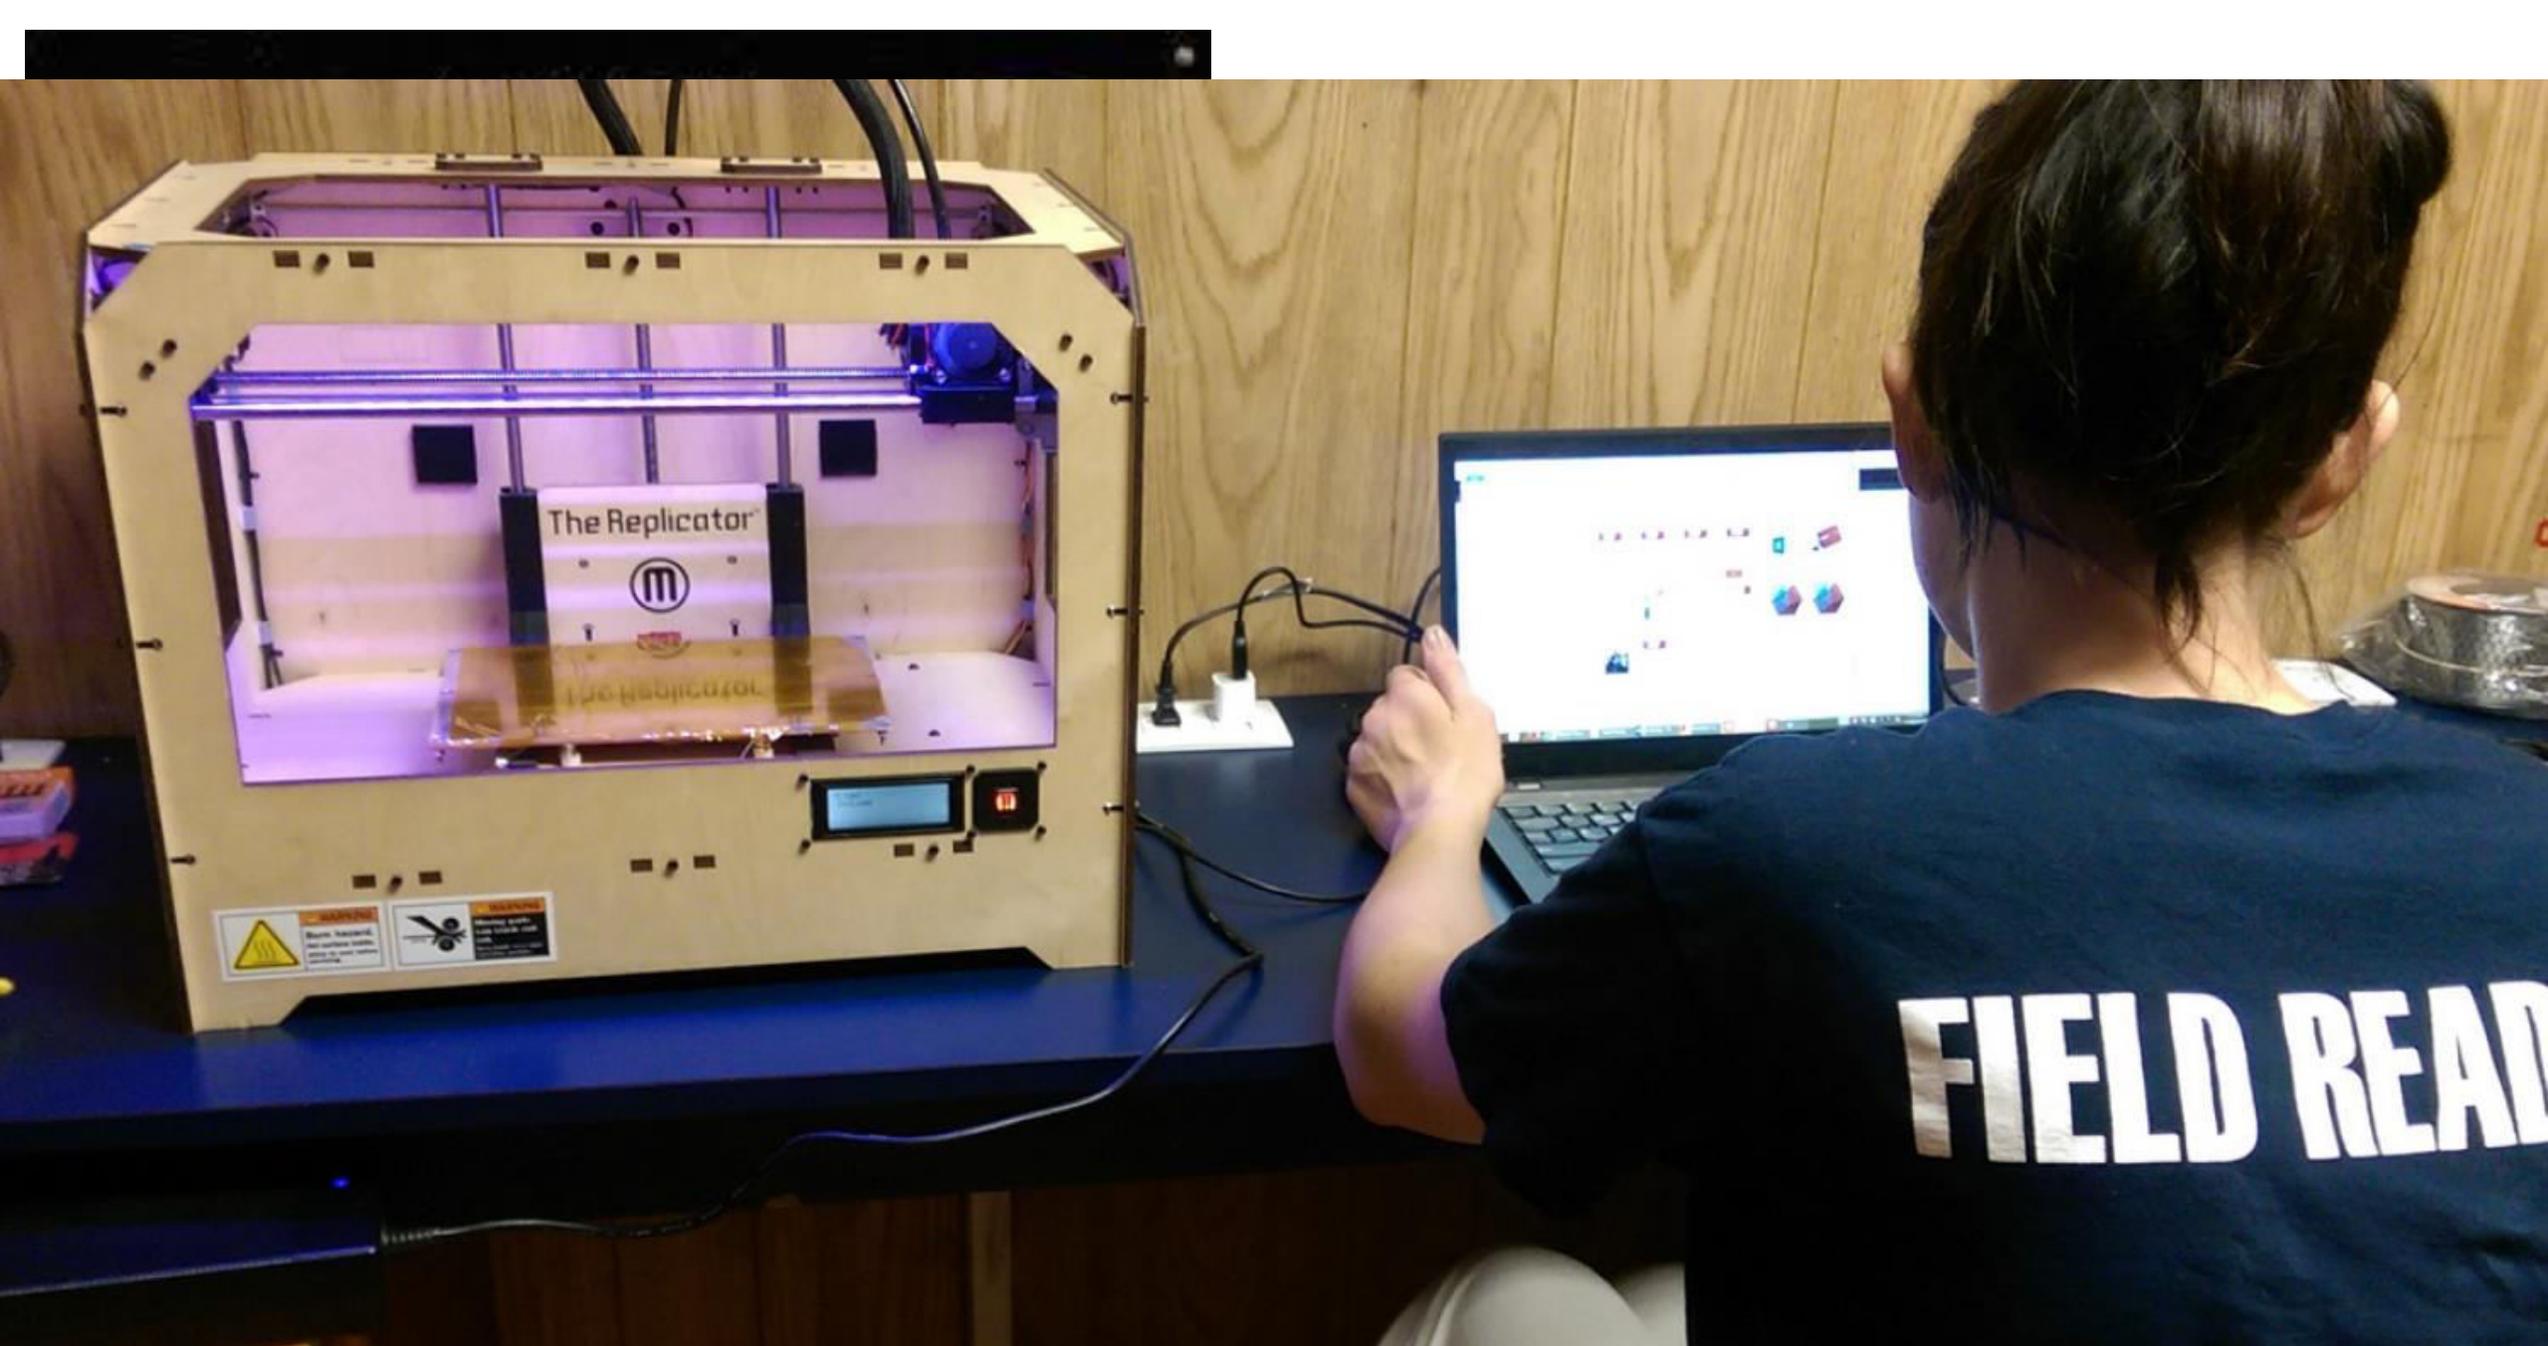

This Morning:

More collaboration between the space
sector and humanitarian sector

MADE IN SPACE

This robot can 3D print a building in 14 hours

The MIT Researchers Want to Deploy Their System in:

“remote regions, such as...in disaster relief areas, for example after a major earthquake, to provide shelter quickly”.

“The long-term vision is for the system to work in places such as Antarctica, the moon and Mars to make buildings out of local materials like ice or moon dust.”

LEADERSHIP

What can we learn from each other?