Czech Republic

[Original: English]

The Czech Republic does not yet have a national law relating to space activities and no other national law deals either directly or indirectly with the issue of the definition and/or delimitation of outer space and air space. As a sovereign State, the Czech Republic affirms its complete and exclusive sovereignty over the air space above its territory. This issue may be considered in conjunction with the drafting of its national law on space activities, if and when such a policy is mentioned.

Ukraine

[Original: Russian]

Ukraine does not have a legal definition of the term “outer space” and has not established a demarcation line between air space and outer space.
