

Introduction to S-Booster in Asia

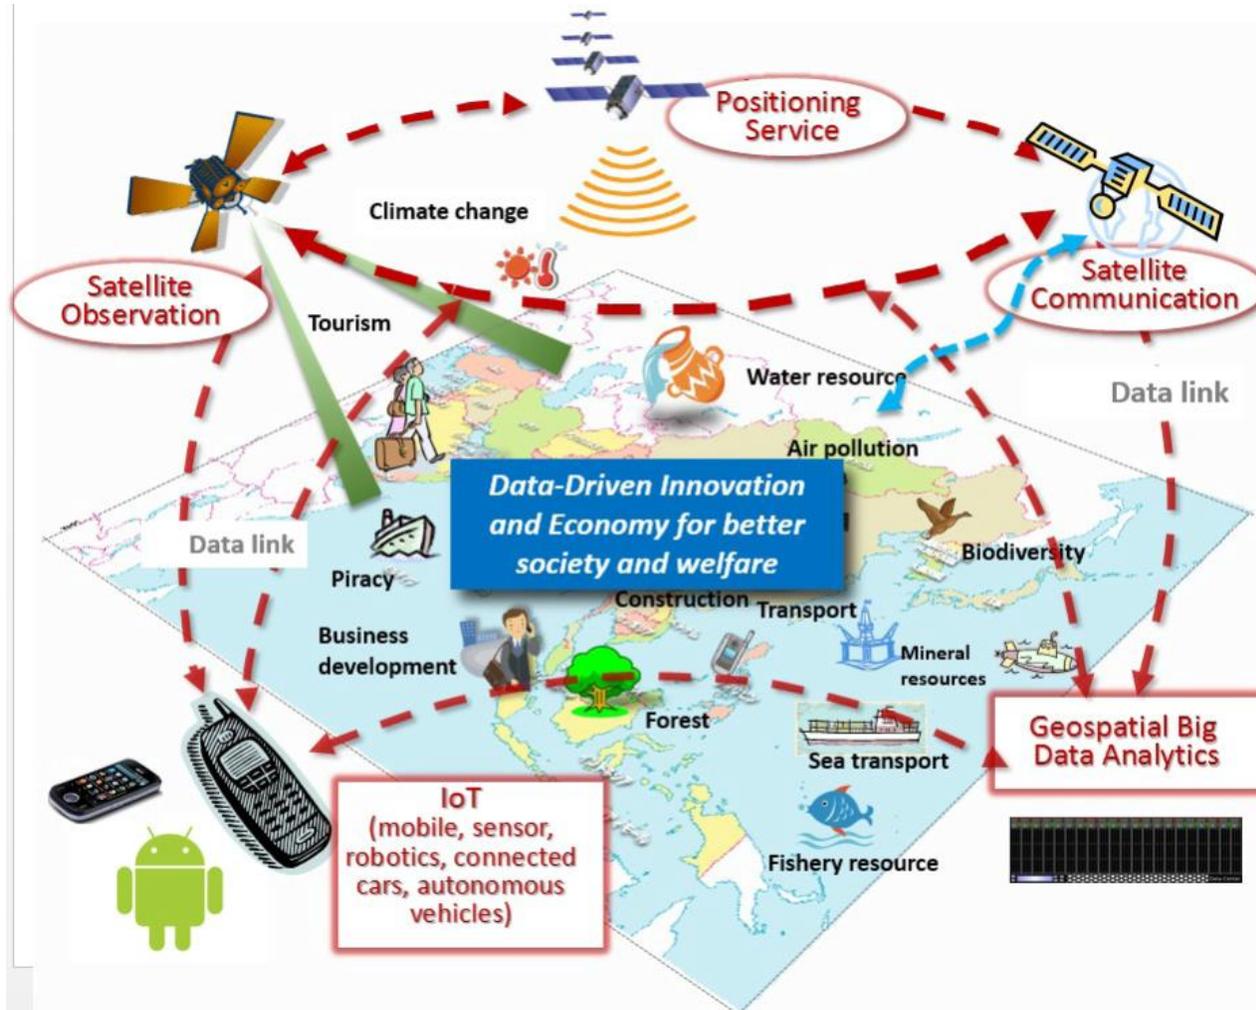

Business Development using Space Technologies

Hiroyuki Miyazaki, Ph.D.

Center for Spatial Information Science, University of Tokyo

heromiya@csis.u-tokyo.ac.jp

Possible Contributions of Space Technologies to industry connectivity

Economic Research Institute for ASEAN and East Asia

Integrated Space-Based Geospatial System: Strengthening ASEAN's Resilience and Connectivity

edited by
Ryosuke Shibasaki, Takayoshi Fukuyo, Hiroyuki Miyazaki,
Quentin Verspioren, and Venkatachalam Anbumozhi

Example - Strengthen manufacturing and service industries

Opportunities for Space-based Business Development

Space Business Idea Contest

S-Booster
in ASIA

Realizing Your Business Idea!
Promoting Win-Win Business Cooperation Between Asia and Japan!

The registration site will be open in January 2019.

Find us on

<https://s-booster.jp/2019/asia/>

How to apply

- APPLICANT eligibility
 - Individuals and Entrepreneurs in the Asia and Oceania regions
- CATEGORIES
 - 1) Business Idea of Utilization of "Japanese Space Asset"
 - 2) Space Business Idea in Collaboration with Japanese Companies
 - 3) Business Idea of the Utilization of QZSS (Quasi-Zenith Satellite System)
- APPLICATION
 - From 01/02/2019 to 15/03/2019 (1.5 Months)
- Asia Round in Thailand
 - May 2019
- Final Round in Tokyo
 - November 2019
- Prizes and Other Assistances
 - Financial Supports
 - Free Business Coaching from Japanese Accelerators
 - Opportunities to meet Japanese Companies and Investors
 - A Travel Grant to Tokyo Final Round etc
- Further details of "S-Booster in Asia 2019" will be informed on this Web site in January, 2019
- Follow updates by Facebook

Introduction to S-Booster in Asia

Business Development using Space Technologies

Hiroyuki Miyazaki, Ph.D.

Center for Spatial Information Science, University of Tokyo

heromiya@csis.u-tokyo.ac.jp

Csis 東京大学 空間情報科学研究センター
Center for Spatial Information Science The University of Tokyo

